February is the month that all Rotarians celebrate Rotary's birthday on the 23rd, which has been designated World Understanding and Peace Day. One of the Objects of Rotary is to promote world peace and understanding all over the globe.

Gwyn Sproule & Whyte's Bay

Our guest speaker on Tuesday was Gwyn Sproule, teacher, historian, ethnobiologist and published author. Gwyn provided an interesting insight into the history of Cumberland based in part on the memoirs of Mavis Wall who with her family lived and grew up at Whyte's Bay. She outlined the abject poverty that was normal for many residents back in the early days of the coal mining industry of Cumberland and surrounding area. Gwyn described how a community of consisting of 25 dwellings grew at Whyte's Bay—named after the mine manager, James Whyte, who built a dwelling there to remove his family from an outbreak of cholera in Chinatown. Many of the people who built small houses there worked at No 4 and No 5 mines that were nearby and others just because it was a beautiful spot. Gwyn's book, titled: "Whyte's Bay Days" covers the 1920s and 30s, which was an idyllic time for the children of the community but not so for the adults who struggled to feed their families, many relying on trout fished from Comox Lake and deer and grouse shot in the surrounding forest. Only 5 of the original cabins remain, some owned by local residents. The one in which Mavis Wall and her family lived has been ravaged by vandals and the elements. Gwyn talked about Jock Sutherland and his beautiful, talented wife, Mary. Jock suffered from post-traumatic stress disorder following his ordeal as a soldier in the trenches at Passchendaele and Vimy Ridge, a condition that was called "burn out" at the time. Jock was not a miner but worked as a watchman for Canadian Collieries. Following the meeting, Gwyn autographed and sold copies of her interesting book and our club bought one to place in the Lodge's library.

Rotary Moment

R I President's Message - February 2009—Read to the Club by President Linda

Dear fellow Rotarians,

I grew up in a small village, the same village where my family had lived for many generations. I lived close to many members of my extended family, and our family traditions were very strong. In those days, few Koreans ever traveled abroad, and there was very little Western influence. My home, my language, and my culture were all I knew.

When I was in my 20s, I made a decision that would shape the rest of my life. With my father's encouragement, I traveled to the United States to work and to study. I chose San Francisco as my destination and spent nearly two years there, taking classes and learning English. I made my way working at several entry-level jobs. It is difficult even today to describe what an impact that experience had on me. Everything, and everyone, was different. I was used to seeing only Korean faces; in San Francisco, I saw people from all over the world. I worked hard on my English and in my job. I learned what it was like to be the person who did not understand, who cleaned up after others, who took orders but never gave them. I learned how large the world outside my village really was. And those experiences sent me back to Korea changed.

When I returned to join my father's business in Seoul, I knew what it was like to be a worker at the bottom of an organizational hierarchy - and that affected how I treated my employees. I knew what it was like to do physical labor all day - and that gave me increased respect for those who worked in every kind of job. Perhaps most important, I knew how much of the world lay beyond my own experience. I knew that there were so many different countries and cultures, so many different people in the world. I knew that as much as we are all different, we are all essentially the same. And I knew that everyone, everywhere, sometimes needs help from others.

In Rotary, February is World Understanding Month - a time to focus on the importance of goodwill and understanding for peace. It is a time for all of us to pause and consider how we are pursuing Rotary's fourth Avenue of Service - International Service - because it is our international service, and our international fellowship, that will do the most to help us all build a more peaceful tomorrow.
