Rotary Fellowships connect Rotarians with similar interests. There are many fellowships, the details of which can be found by visiting: _____ and searching for fellowships.

Our speaker on Tuesday was David Salzano of the BC Securities Commission, Investor Education Division. David's message centred on protecting ourselves from scams and other fraudulent activities that are perpetrated by a host of people who gain our confidence and trust through infiltration of groups with which we are associated. The rule: "If it sounds too good to be true, it is" was a theme throughout David's talk. Some other thoughts included:

- Know Yourself - your investment goals
- Know your investment - all the details
- Know your advisor - Check qualifications, registrations, etc
- Understand pressure tactics - used by scammers
- Get everything in writing
- Be suspicious - of payments and advice to cash out.

- Jill Cornwell is always interested in suggestions for speakers:
_____ Jill is also accepting donations of good books for our library at Cumberland Lodge.

- From President Steve: Orchard work party on Wednesday evening, 16 June, at 5:00 PM.

- Linda announced that Canadian Tire has donated three new lawnmowers for us to use in orchard cleanup. In recognition of this generosity, a tree in the orchard will be dedicated to the Canadian Tire.
- Chip presented a Presidential Citation Certificate for our club to president Steve.
- Gale reminded everyone that on Tuesday, 22 June at 9:00 AM at Cumberland Junior Middle School, she will be presenting the Triple A Award established by our club, which includes a cheque for $100 for the selected student. We are all welcome to join Gale at the school.
- Liz outlined some details of an idea she is developing to have a social event for the ladies of the club and spouses of male members. Part of the event will involve an exchange of wardrobe items brought by participants. Male members are not excluded if there is a little black number in their wardrobes they might like to offer.
- _____: Gale Wheeler and Jay Dahlgren
- _____ Arrive by 6:30 AM, set up room, greet everyone as people arrive and hand out badges, help with visitors' name tags and make-up cards. Return room to original setup.

In the past nine months, the residents of Bribie Island, Queensland, Australia, have learned a lot about polio and the global effort to eradicate the disease. Led by the town's Rotarians, they've also given a lot back. In September, the Rotary Club of Bribie Island embarked on Project Eradication, aimed at raising $1 for each one of the community's 19,490 residents.

"One club member had lost his brother to polio many years before, and several others had been touched by polio in their youth or through friends and family," said Bribie Island Rotarian Barry Clark, reflecting on the inspiration for the project.

Over the next several months, the 25-member club organized a number of fundraisers. As the fundraisers unfolded, the project gained increasing visibility in the community and media. The club also sent out news releases about the work of Jenny Horton -- a nurse and member of the Rotary Club of Kenmore, Queensland -- in the polio immunization effort in India. The publicity helped generate significant donations from residents and groups such as the Lions club, Bowls club, and community orchestra. The Bribie Island club also gained 12 new members. On 13 May, Bribie Island Rotarians presented a cheque for $20,000 for Rotary's US$200 Million Challenge to Past RI President Clem Renouf.
