Since the month of May has no particular theme in the world of Rotary, why not consider making it the second month of the year that we focus on the Rotary Foundation? We could consider ways that we can help meet the challenge accepted by Rotary International in light of the generous $255 Million grant from the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation to help end polio. Every bit helps.

Potpourri

In the absence of our scheduled speaker, here are some of the activities that took place at our meeting on Tuesday.

Wendy Jackson of the 1st Courtenay Pathfinders accepted a cheque from President Linda for $500 to help fund the travel costs of her group of 15-year-old girls to several Guiding centres in the UK and Europe this summer. A number of girls from the troop helped out at a work party at our orchard so earned the money through their service to our club and community.

Two more AEDs were presented by our club. One to the Child

Development Centre and the other to the Comox Seniors' D'Esterre Centre. L-R: Jim Lariviere Comox Fire Department, Lee Bjarnason CDC, President Linda, Kathy Cruikshank CDC, Dave Stevens, Tony Hermes

President Comox Seniors' D'Esterre Centre and John Marinus a member of the Seniors' Centre. We have now provided 8 EADs to various groups in our community @ $2,000 each. Jim Lariviere will coordinate training at both locations.

History of Rotary in India

CALCUTTA was the home town for the first Rotary club in the mainland of Asia. R.J. Combes, the manager of a steel products company while on a business trip to U.S.A. was so impressed by the "friendship, fellowship, and service" aspects of the movement called Rotary that he wanted to introduce the idea to his friends in Calcutta as well. There was no difficulty for him to convince enough people and convene the first meeting on 26 September, 1919. The new club was chartered just after three months of the first meeting, on New Year's day of 1920. All the twenty charter members were non-Indians.

The first Indian Rotarian was S.C.Rudra who was inducted in 1921. The first Indian to become the club secretary was Nitish C. Laharry (1926) who became R.I. president in 1962-'63. Abdul Ali was the first Indian to become a club president.

Except for the lone club chartered in Lahore (in Pakistan now) in 1927, for about a decade India had to be content with only one club, i.e. R.C. of Calcutta. Things changed when James Wheeler Davidson of Calgary, arrived on Indian shores with a firm determination to spread Rotary in India. In fact he was responsible for the establishment of Rotary clubs in different countries including Australia, New Zealand, Southern Europe, Egypt, Siam (Thailand) and Japan and was known as the 'Marco Polo of Rotary.' Jim Davidson established Rotary in Bombay as well as Madras (now Chennai) in 1929.

For Golfers

On the second tee of the golf course with his wife, the husband said, "Twenty years ago I had a brief affair. It meant nothing. I hope you can forgive me." His wife was hurt but said, "Dearest, those days are long gone. What we have now is far more valuable. I forgive you." They embraced and kissed.

On the 17th tee, the husband was starting his back swing when his wife blurted out, "I'm sorry, darling, I've been so conscience-stricken since you told me of your affair. Since we're being honest with each other, I have something to tell you also. Thirty-two years ago I had a sex change operation. I was a man before I met you. I hope you can forgive me."

The husband froze at the top of his back swing and then threw a fit! He slammed the driver into the ground, kicked the ball into the woods, stormed off the tee, pushed the golf cart over on its side, broke the rest of his clubs one by one, then started on hers.

He screamed and ranted, "You liar! You cheat! You despicable deceiver! How could you? I trusted you with all my heart and soul ... and all these years you've been playing off the ladies' tees!"
